Overview

Rob serves as Director of Allocation at QuadCap, where he leads asset allocation across the firm's fixed income and equity strategies and oversees its ETF model portfolios. Previously, QuadCap's Senior Fixed Income Investment Strategist, he develops and implements investment strategies across asset classes, with a focus on portfolio construction and disciplined risk management.

Rob brings to his work more than three decades of experience in financial securities, encompassing trading, institutional sales, and portfolio management. His expert trading skills, gained through experience across equities, bonds, and an exhilarating tenure as a forex trader for a major bank, represent an invaluable asset for QuadCap.

With more than twenty years dedicated to fixed income, he has developed extensive expertise in crafting tailored fixed income solutions for a diverse clientele. His career reflects a deep commitment to delivering exceptional results for clients and firms alike.
